8 Infinity and Beyond

For an Infinite Being nothing lies beyond. Everything exists now. Though your body returns to the earth, the essence of you is divine and infinite.

A. Life After

Life after these bodies expire does not matter. What matters is life today, life in this moment. Spending time and energy focusing on the afterlife only means you are not living this life to the fullest. All living is happening right now, in the moment. Nothing else exists. To focus on life after is taking this life for granted. No one knows what life outside the body looks like and even if they do, there is no way to explain in words. Life after is beyond human comprehension and expression. You do life after a disservice by trying to explain it in human terms. Any human explanation of life after falls short because the conscious mind cannot contain the expansiveness of nonphysical existence. The conscious mind works on comparison and experience. It has never experienced or seen anything comparable. Everything you know is filtered through the human experience for you to consciously think about it. To filter life as an energetic being through human consciousness is folly. It merely distracts Infinite Beings from manifesting divinity in the present. Why wonder about an afterlife instead of making the most of the life now? Fear is usually the source of this wondering. Many fear life without a physical body because many believe they are their bodies. They want to know when their bodies expire, what happens next. Do not fear your mortality because you are immortal. Energy cannot be destroyed or created. You are a part of Divine Oneness, which is all there has ever been and all there will ever be. The energy which animates your body which some call soul or spirit continues, it does not have a choice. It transforms.

Manifest divinity in your life every day and you bring the divinity many hope to find in an afterlife to this world. You are a unique expression of the divine. Allow your soul to express itself and you literally manifest divinity on Earth. Live in love and function from love and you live in your divine power. Allow yourself and others to experience divinity every day. You see divinity every time you look into the eyes of an Infinite Being rather it be in the mirror or in someone else. The question is do you recognize it? You are an expression of the divine reflecting the divinity in others. You are a mirror for the divinity in other Infinite Beings just as they are a mirror for you. The more Infinite Beings unite in love the more divinity manifests in the physical. Creating a divine experience on Earth makes searching for divinity in the afterlife unnecessary. Do not concern yourself with life after. Think about life now. Share love now. Be divine now. Manifest your vision now. Commit to this and your human existence becomes divine. Feel your active connection to the Divine Mother and life after becomes life now because you realize there is no after only now.

B. No Limits

You have no limits. If you think it and commit to it then it manifests. You originate from an infinite source, so you are limitless. Nothing you encounter is a limit, it is an opportunity for growth. It assists you to grow on your path. No matter what occurs in your life, you have the power to overcome it and use it to your benefit. Nothing the world projects on you limits you. It offers you the opportunity to use your divine power and manifest divinity on Earth. The world projects hate to everyone but you can transmute hate into love, first love for yourself then love for others. You have the power to use their hate to fuel your love. The world projects fear to control you. Use their fear to become fearless. Face their projection of fear head on and it disappears, and you inspire other Infinite Beings to do the same. Now the hate others projected on you becomes their own limitation, it becomes their self-hate. The world and those who wish to control and manipulate you project their insecurities on you in an attempt to limit you as an Infinite Being. They are filled with hate for themselves so they want you to hate yourself and others. They are full of fear so they want to scare you and make you fearful. They feel limited so they want you to feel limited to make them feel better and more powerful. You are limitless, you are an Infinite Being. Limitations only exist in the mind, release them. Release hate and fear by embracing love. Embrace your divinity and watch all limitations disappear. This world does not define you, you define yourself. This world does not make you, you make this world. You are an Infinite Being, you have no limits.

C. Revelations

Every revelation is only a new beginning. When something is revealed, you are renewed. Revelations allow you to live life from a new perspective with a new truth. Revelations big and small happen every day. Celebrate them. Many are taught to fear revelations and to fear revelations is to fear the truth. To fear the truth is to fear yourself. Fear shuts down your divine power. Fear is an illusion so there is nothing to fear, not even fear itself. Embrace your revelations. Rejoice in your revelations for every revelation allows you to step more into your divinity. Every revelation reveals you to yourself and you are divine by design. You came to change the world by manifesting your unique expression of the divine. Since you are everything and everything is you, there is nothing to fear. Once you embrace and love yourself, you embrace everything. Fear is a tool of control, do not let anything or anyone control you. Claim your divine power. Accept your mission. Embrace your vision and manifest divinity on Earth. You only have one chance at this moment. Live it up, you divine Infinite Being!

D. Prophecy Fulfilled

The Original people of America woke up from their slumber and called all their power back to them. They remembered they were divine by designed and Infinite Beings with no beginning and no end. They got back aligned with Universal Law and built a world where Love and Truth reigned supreme. The days of slaving for an exploitive system were over. Each Infinite Being answered the call of the Divine Mother to uplift fallen humanity and assist all to live according to Universal Law. As more people understood and lived in accordance to Universal Law and Divine Law, the shift in consciousness was accelerated. People begin to focus on their spiritual journey and understand their superpowers. Communities of Infinite Beings formed all over the world and peace reigned as they entered higher dimensions. An existence that was unfathomable for many at the beginning of their incarnation was in full effect. They lived in abundance and travelled the cosmos. The Great Ones returned more powerful than ever before and the Divine Mother was restored to her throne for she was and is the source of all life. The rise of the Infinite Beings happened as many ancient scriptures prophesized and the prophecy was fulfilled.
